Headline:
Cloudy with rain at times, snow on high ground.

Today:
Another cold and cloudy day with outbreaks of rain. The rain will be mostly light and patchy, the west will see very little, but falling as snow over high ground. Strong easterly winds. Maximum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Tonight:
A few outbreaks of rain or sleet, snow on higher ground, but also a few clear spells especially for western Argyll. However it will feel very cold in fresh winds. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Saturday:
A few showers feeding through from the east, these increasingly falling as sleet and snow at low levels. Best of any brightness will be for the Kintyre Peninsular. Maximum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
A cold few days with snow showers in the east feeding through the Central Belt. Driest and brightest conditions over Argyll and the Clyde Coast.
